

Sensory Play at the Warwick Public Library

Today I am going to Sensory Play at the Warwick Library.
This is the library entrance.

I walk up the stairs or take the elevator to get to the Children's Library.

Librarians are there to welcome me, answer questions, and help me find what I need. When I visit, it might be a different librarian's turn to work.

I can use the bathroom if I need it during my visit, and there is a water fountain in case I need a drink of water.

I can read books and play games before or after Sensory Play. These are a few of the books and games that might be at the library when I visit.

Sensory Play is where my grownup and I play with toys in the program room. On other days there may be different toys out to play with. The toys stay in the program room.

If I need to take a break, there are places to rest.

I can visit the Children's Library pets.
There are fish in their fish tank, and Beezus the tarantula in her tank.

When it is time to leave the library, I walk down the stairs or take the elevator to get to the exit. I can visit the library again on another day.
